

WORLD FORUM IN ACTION

WorldForumFoundation.org • info@WorldForumFoundation.org

#2017WF

Share Where You Are Coming From!

From Australia to Uganda, Fiji to Bangladesh, our colleagues are traveling to the 2017 World Forum from across the globe! In the past, delegates from over 95 countries have shared inspiration and information on issues impacting children and families worldwide. Where will you be coming from? Share your plans or set your intention by snapping a picture and sharing it with the WF Community!

Vera Anselmi, Brazil

Post your picture on facebook.com/worldforumfoundation
with the hashtag #2017WF
or email us:
info@WorldForumFoundation.org

Karma Gayleg, Bhutan

Vishaka Deshpande,
India

Anne Sivanathan, Kuala Lumpur

Roger Neugebauer and Bonnie Neugebauer,
United States

Vashima Goyal, Singapore

Haven't registered yet? It's easy to do at WorldForumFoundation.org, but don't wait too long, the Early Bird Rate ends October 1, 2016!

Meet World Forum National Representative Caroline Hudicourt!

Location: Haiti

Position/Association: School Director; Director of the Consortium of Private Educational Sector Organizations in Haiti; Consultant for Step by Step (Tipa Tipa) in Haiti

What are you most passionate about?

I am most passionate about social justice and I believe that after satisfying the basic needs, education is the efficient path to sustainable development. We must give every single child a chance to make the light he holds within shine into the world.

What is your hope for the World Forum Foundation?

I hope that by reflecting on the well-being of children and infiltrating high power political spheres in education and politics, the World Forum will motivate decision makers to look at the future through the eyes and the needs of children; they would keep in perspective the long-term survival of the planet, the blossoming of this world and of the children bound to live in it, rather than destroying our physical and social environment for immediate gains.

What has your favorite experience been as a National Representative?

I have learned a lot about sharing and networking, and I believe that that's what leads me to the position I hold at COSPE today. My role in COSPE enlarges considerably the odds of my having a chance to impact the educational sector in Haiti in general.

Will we see you in New Zealand at the 2017 World Forum?

Yes, I definitely plan to attend and I am looking forward to sharing that moment with all of you. The opportunity for collective learning it brings us is invaluable.

Bonnie's Global Café

Bonnie and Roger Neugebauer, co-founders of the World Forum Foundation, welcome you to visit, have coffee, meet friends old and new, share conversations and news, and be a community to one another at Bonnie's Global Café!

Each month the Café features FRESH new dishes, along with Café classics that you are sure to enjoy time and time again. Be sure to check out these two Café classics from Bonnie and Roger that are still on the menu.

Meryl Hewett Fourie Shares the Story of School Relocation and Resilience • South Africa

Meryl Hewett Fourie shares the story of Capella House, the School of Possibilities, a program grounded in the importance of relationships. When violent protests shut down Capella House, school leaders, families, and community members came forward to save this progressive, independent preprimary and primary school in the Noordhoek/Kommetjie Valley.

Wil Maheia Introduces Florentina • Belize

Wil Maheia plays a leadership role in the WF Nature Action Collaborative for Children. He drops by the Café from Belize to share the story of Florentina, a woman from Toledo, who let nothing stand in her way of her goal to bring solar power to a remote village in Toledo.

Visit the Connection Center, pull up a chair, and enjoy!

WorldForumFoundation.org/cafe